

Spoken English radio station “Voice of America”

A thorough classic English for beginners ENGLISH is in order Online courses grammar lessons, dialogues and other materials to help you learn English effectively English language course for beginners English USA say America was prepared and published by employees of the Russian service of radio Voice of America to help everyone to master American English. This course appeared in 90-ies but still not losing its relevance and is one of the best audio courses in English for beginners. The staff of voice of America has developed a course based on two years. Initially it was assumed that the first 52 of the lesson this is the first year of study, the remaining lessons of the second year. However, such a division is of course very arbitrary. Each person chooses their own optimal mode of development of educational material. Each lesson of the course is a dialogue in which our audiences follow the protagonist of a radio journalist Martin Lerner accompanying him on trips to different US cities. Martin Lerner prepares reports for Voice of America. During the visits, he meets with the Americans to different professions. Conversing with them Martin uses expressions from everyday English. In each lesson of the English course for beginners leading Anna Filippova invites listeners to participate in conversations in different situations and practice how to use the most commonly used idiomatic expressions. The main method of lessons repetition of phrases and expressions of the spoken language for better learning and practical mastering. At the moment, English course for beginners English USA say So in America is one of the best free system teaching practical language which includes a number of lessons that you can listen and download for free. Learn to greet each other and say their name in English. Learn to imagine other people calling them names and profession. For example, a reporter, doctor, engineer, a financial officer, a musician, etc. To learn how to ask his new acquaintances what they do what work is done to learn the names of a few professions and a few pronouns. The repetition of words and expressions used when meeting. Learn to ask the question Who are you Your name Who are you Expression Please write it Please write it for me. The repetition of words and expressions used when meeting. In this lesson you will learn to say goodbye and thank your interlocutor. You will learn how to ask directions and explain how to walk or drive to a certain place. Question Where are you from

Link to article:: Spoken English radio station “Voice of America”